COUNTY AGENT Bill McCutchen applies Mirex bait to a hill of imported fire ants infesting a pasture just off Adams St. at the Charles Sanders' farm. The new mounds are not very high, but the bermuda grass on top is a bright green compared to surrounding grass. When kicked, the mound erupts in a boiling mass of ants. Mrs. Sanders says the sting is much more painful than ordinary ants.

3 COLLISIONS KILL 2 AT US 77-190 NORTH

Four accidents have occurred since Saturday night, three of them at the intersection of U.S. 77 and Highway 190 North of Cameron.

Two accidents occurred Sunday and one Tuesday at the highway intersection three miles north of Cameron. ONE

The first was at 10:30 a.m. when cars driven by L. D. Chambers of Lampasas and Connie Davis of Fort Worth collided. Chambers was traveling east on Farm Road 485 and failed to stop at the stop sign. The other car was traveling south on 77.

Neither Chambers or any of the three passengers in his car were injured. Mrs. Davis sustained head injuries and two passengers, Clard E. Davis and Clard David Jr. sustained minor injuries. They were all taken to St. Edward Hospital in Cameron.

TWO
The second mishap was at 2:40 p.m. and the Cameron fire department was called out to protect the scene against fire from gasoline spilled in both accidents, Benson said.

The collision was between a station wagon driven by Jearl L. Mowery of Arlington and another station wagon driven by Ronald Guthrie of Temple. Mowery's vehicle was traveling north on US 77 and the other car failed to stop at the stop sign on FM 485.

Guthrie was transferred to Scott and White Hospital from St. Edward suffering chest and wrist injuries. Also transferred to Scott and White, was his wife, Sandra, who sustained head injuries.

A passenger in the Mowery vehicle Amy Mowery, suffered minor leg injuries.

THREE
The third accident occurred Tuesday afternoon killing an elderly couple and leaving a third person in serious condition.

Pronounced dead on the scene by Justice of the Peace Jess Brock, was Mrs. Lillian M. Wagner, 74. Her 76 year - old husband was pronounced dead on arrival at a Cameron hospital.

Mrs. Joyce Angell, 38, secretary for the First Baptist Church in Cameron, is in serious condition after surgery Tuesday night at Scott and White Hospital in Temple.

According to Highway Patrolman Jerry Benson, Mrs. Angell was driving north on 77 about 2:15 p.m. when she collided with the east bound Wagner car.

Mrs. Wagner was a retired nurse from the old Hearne Funeral Hospital.

FOUR

According to DPS Troopers Milton Wright and Leroy Broadus of Cameron, two cars, driven by Marvin Young and his mother, Mrs. Opal Young, both of Cameron, had stopped on the side of the road for repairs to Marvin's vehicle. They were stopped about five miles north of Rockdale on Highway 77 at 10 p.m. Saturday.

Another car driven by Victor Young struck the parked cars. Marvin and his brother-in-law, Donald Fleming, his daughter Lisa and his mother were all outside the cars and all were injured.

The child was admitted to Richards Clinic and Hospital where she was treated for a deep cut on the head. The others were treated and released.

Cameron School Board Meets; CPA Audit Report Reviewed

The full board of Cameron Independent School District Monday night reviewed an annual district CPA audit report and reported no action out of a 30-minute executive session.

Supt. Buddy Dulin sketched the results of a 36-page audit from the Cleburne CPA firm of Rix Estes and Kolander, which found CISD in fiscal order for 1974-75.

Figures showed both in the complete and condensed report the total 1974-75 school budget checked out $719.98 under a budgeted $1,302,247, that the CISD general fund was $1,118,732.93 and that 95.9 percent of local taxes was collected.

Including delinquent taxes, collections would have been 99.8 percent.

The board went into executive session over a real estate matter involving the CISD-owned Smith property and a personnel matter. The board reported out no vote nor action on either item.

GYM RENOVATION

Supt. Dulin noted progress on interior renovation at Yoe Gymnasium. Painters are repainting the gym ceiling, following total refinishing of the gym floor a few weeks ago.

Refurbishing of dressing room walls, lockers and shower facilities is underway in areas beneath both sides of bleachers. Lockers are on order, Supt. Dulin said, and would be installed in renovated dressing-room areas when tile work, painting and plastering are complete.

Dulin also noted that work on classroom areas dedicated to the YHS science department will begin after the gymnasium is refurbished by painters. Workmen are high on scaffolding now spraying light-color paint for the first time in years. Elzy Harris painting contractor.

The board also approved new policies of dealing with child-abuse cases involving students in CISD and parental consent on placing students in special education curriculum.

A 5-1 vote carried to allow a representative of a disability insurance firm to contact CISD teachers about a payroll deduction program. Betsy Brown was the lone dissenter.

Board members discussed time changes when Central Standard Time is reinstituted and decided to maintain the 7:30 p.m. meeting time on regular Monday meetings.

SCHOOL FEES

Board also discussed Texas Atty-Gen. John Hill's opinion on school fees, extracurricular activities charged for through a school system. Supt. Dulin said perhaps a 3 percent factor would cover the problem for CISD.

The 1974-75 audit reported notes that CISD bonded indebtedness is $286,562.50 in principal and interest which will be paid out in 1984. Bonded indebtedness dates to construction of Ben Milam and O. J. Thomas Schools in the mid-50s.

Local tax collections during the past school fiscal year $65,852.88 on the delinquent tax roll and transfer of $385,601.63 to the local general school and interest and sinking funds. Since 1953, the audit shows that CISD evaluations have increased from $6,299,905 to $31,225,605.

Early in the meeting, a YHS photographer took annual pictures of the board. Present were chairman Calvin Cobb, members Betsy Brown, Carol Barr, Forrest Sapp, John Henderson, Jr., Joe Walzel, Fredwill Horning.

ALL TYPES of art were shown, ranging from paintings to necklaces made of sharks teeth. All photos taken by Mike Peck.

Beyond Divisive Emotions

The Legislative Budget Board finds the proposed new constitution more favorable in "fiscal implications" than Comptroller Bob Bullock who sees it more costly than the old document, but with less certainty since he first attacked its financial impact.

Advocates of the proposed constitution head the Budget Board. They are chairman Lt-Gov Bill Hobby and vice-chairman House Speaker Bill Clayton.

A 6-0 committee vote found no net cost figure for the new constitution simply because it is impossible to know the fiscal actions of future legislatures and local governments. Two opponents, State Sen. Tom Creighton and State Rep. Bill Heatley left the room during the 6-0 vote.

Reports say they stayed to vote the minority in a 6-2 outcome which in a final committee statement found: "Therefore no fiscal implication is associated with adoption of this provision (requiring an environmental protection policy)."

Bullock's criticism of the proposed cost is just as conjectural as the Legislative Budget Board's. We think the prospects of a more modern document weight the question in favor of the Budget Board's findings.

We cannot see this as a question of conservative or liberal. Good government works better than weak government. And a chief definition of good government is one in which people participate, inquire, share confidence and extol.

One of the criticisms of this proposal, more than fiscal cost, is toward the annual sessions element. The men who would be in charge of those annual sessions are speaking for fiscal responsibility as well as more time to pass more bills.

And they are men with ambitions to higher office who would be stupid to saddle themselves with a constitution which would yield more legislative problems than solutions.

Hobby and Clayton realize their political futures are at stake. If they speak to fiscal responsibility here and better government in support of the whole instrument, they are more believable than blanket opposition to the instrument and to the idea that this generation is incapable of improving the old document written in the fear of post-Civil War chaos.

Texas is so much changed from that time, it is compelled to look to the future, anticipating what Texas can in laws and finance, but easily knowing as much as the writers of the old document who were aflame with the divisive emotions of a Civil War Texas lost.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

USDA GRAIN INSPECTION SCANDAL SPREADING

Senator Hubert H. Humphrey (Minn.)... I wish to point out an article in the New Republic entitled, "Disseased Corn, Imaginary Soybeans"... I ask unanimous consent that this article be printed in the Record" (Excerpts follow):

The New York Times in a story (told) about rumors that a contract was out on a federal grain inspector to break both his kneecaps. The inspector had ignored requests from his superiors in the Department of Agriculture (USDA) to keep silent. As a result he helped expose the biggest scandal in the history of the department.

To date 36 separate indictments naming 57 people and companies have been handed down by grand juries in New Orleans and Houston.

Investigations are spreading into Philadelphia, Baltimore, Duluth, and all the major grain exporting ports. Scores of officials--licensed by the USDA--have been named in indictments for bribery, theft, perjury, income tax evasion, and other corrupt practices. At least a hundred indictments are expected.

One inspector was convicted of accepting payoffs ranging as high as $5,000 to sign certificates stating that ships are clean and fit to carry grain. It is cheaper to bribe an official than to clean a ship. On June 13, the Des Moines Register reported that wheat intended for human consumption was being loaded into a hold containing oil sludge. The ship had been certified clean.

U. S. Attorney Gerald J. Gallinhouse announced indictments stemming from the sale of "at least nine 'barge loads' of nonexistent soybeans and corn. In April, 1974," the indictment stated, "Porters, Palmisano, and Nicholas traveled to Nassau, Bahamas, where each deposited $100,000 in a branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia. Meanwhile USDA receipts appear to show that over a three-year period, a grain elevator--owned by Cook Industries--sold 18.6 million bushels more grain than it received.

Finally a complaint recently received by the Department of Agriculture reports that 30,000 pounds of corn--shipped to Honduras by CARE (Cooperative for American Relief Everywhere)--was so badly infected that it was not only dangerous for humans, but for livestock as well. By the time the condition of the corn--which had been certified by licensed grain inspectors--became known, it was too late. The people for whom the corn was intended had long since sickened or died.

CRUMP'S GRASS
ROOTS COMMENT
Two investigating newspapers reporters uncovered the grain inspection scandal.

Board Hikes Home Rates

AUSTIN — Insurance made news again, as the State Insurance Board hiked rates for homeowners coverage effective February 16.

Board staffers a week earlier recommended an average 17 per cent increase statewide in auto insurance premiums.

The Board-approved homeowners' rates will increase at an average of 8.3 per cent, fire insurance rates on homes 7.9 per cent for single-year policies and 14 per cent on three-year policies.

Rates were far less than those requested by the insurance industry. Homeowners' policy rates and extended coverage (storms, hail, riots, accidents, etc), vary by territories.

Homeowners' rates for average residences would increase as follows:
— Seacoast, 7.6 per cent.
— Central, 7.6 per cent.
— North-Northwest, 12 per cent.

Rate on a $35,000 brick veneer home in Galveston will go up from $940 to $1,021 for a three-year homeowners policy. The same type home in Houston would see a rate increase from $814 to $886, in Austin from $654 to $714 and in Lubbock from $1,137 to $1,283.

Amount of the annual increase on the same home would be $17 in Galveston, $24 in Houston, $20 in Austin and $49 in Lubbock.

VRA Study On

The House Elections Committee began a "major study of effects of the recently extended and expanded Voting Rights Act on Texas.

The Committee will try to gauge impact of the law on local governments and recommend legislation needed to help smaller governmental units comply with complex VRA requirements.

All governmental units, under VRA, must submit to the U. S. Department of Justice any changes in their election laws, procedures or voting precinct boundaries dating back to Nov. 1, 1972, and in the future.

Elections Committee Chairman Rep. Luther Jones of El Paso said many small cities and other units don't have resources or required data to make full submissions and will have serious difficulty complying with requirements without assistance.

Lands Leased

Oil and gas exploration firms bid cash bonus payments of more than $3.4 million on 91,000 acres of state land at a recent lease sale.

Most bidding activity was concentrated on state submerged tracts located in Texas bays. More than $2.1 million of the total was put up for leases on 55,383 acres in the bay tracts.

Inexco Oil Company bid more than $600,000 for 13 tracts, Monsanto $377,609 for 11 tracts, Houston Oil and Minerals Corp. $338,381 for 11 tracts and Exxon, $200,004 for 12 tracts.

Highest single bonus bid of $117,936 was made by Kilroy Company of Texas for a Gulf of Mexico tract in Jefferson County.

Courts Speak

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a murder conviction in a Rio Grande Valley case because of improper arguments by a prosecutor but didn't rule on a challenge of constitutionality of the death penalty law.

The State Supreme Court refused to interfere with a lower court order transferring a Houston utility rate controversy outside the company's service area.

Third Court of Civil Appeals told The University of Texas it owes a construction company $850,000 in a breach of contract suit.

The Supreme Court sent back to the trial court a Lubbock woman's suit for damages from an auto dealer she claimed misrepresented to her that the car she bought had never been wrecked.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

Some people are saying the country is being run mostly by worn-out politicians. I don't know about that, but I do know that the politicians' language is worn out.

For instance, a Senator said just the other day that letting some outfit police itself would be like "getting a fox to guard the hen house."

Never in the history of man has any farmer ever used a fox to guard his hen house. Maybe a Senator would try it, but no farmer has ever been that dumb. Besides, most people these days don't even know what a hen house is. Eggs come in boxes at the supermarket, stupid.

les or motorcycles either. And stay away from airplane wheels. The jet blast will get you. Of course he was thinking of wagon wheels, but there aren't enough of those left to go around.

Objecting to President Ford's plan to cut taxes if Congress will cut spending even before it gets a look at the new budget, a Senator said "he wants us to buy a pig in a poke." I don't know how many pigs have ever been sought sight-unseen in a sack, but I have a notion not over half a dozen, and then by a half-wit being put upon by a practical joker. You get a notion that any politician who'd still use that figure of speech must have been one of the guys who bought such a pig.

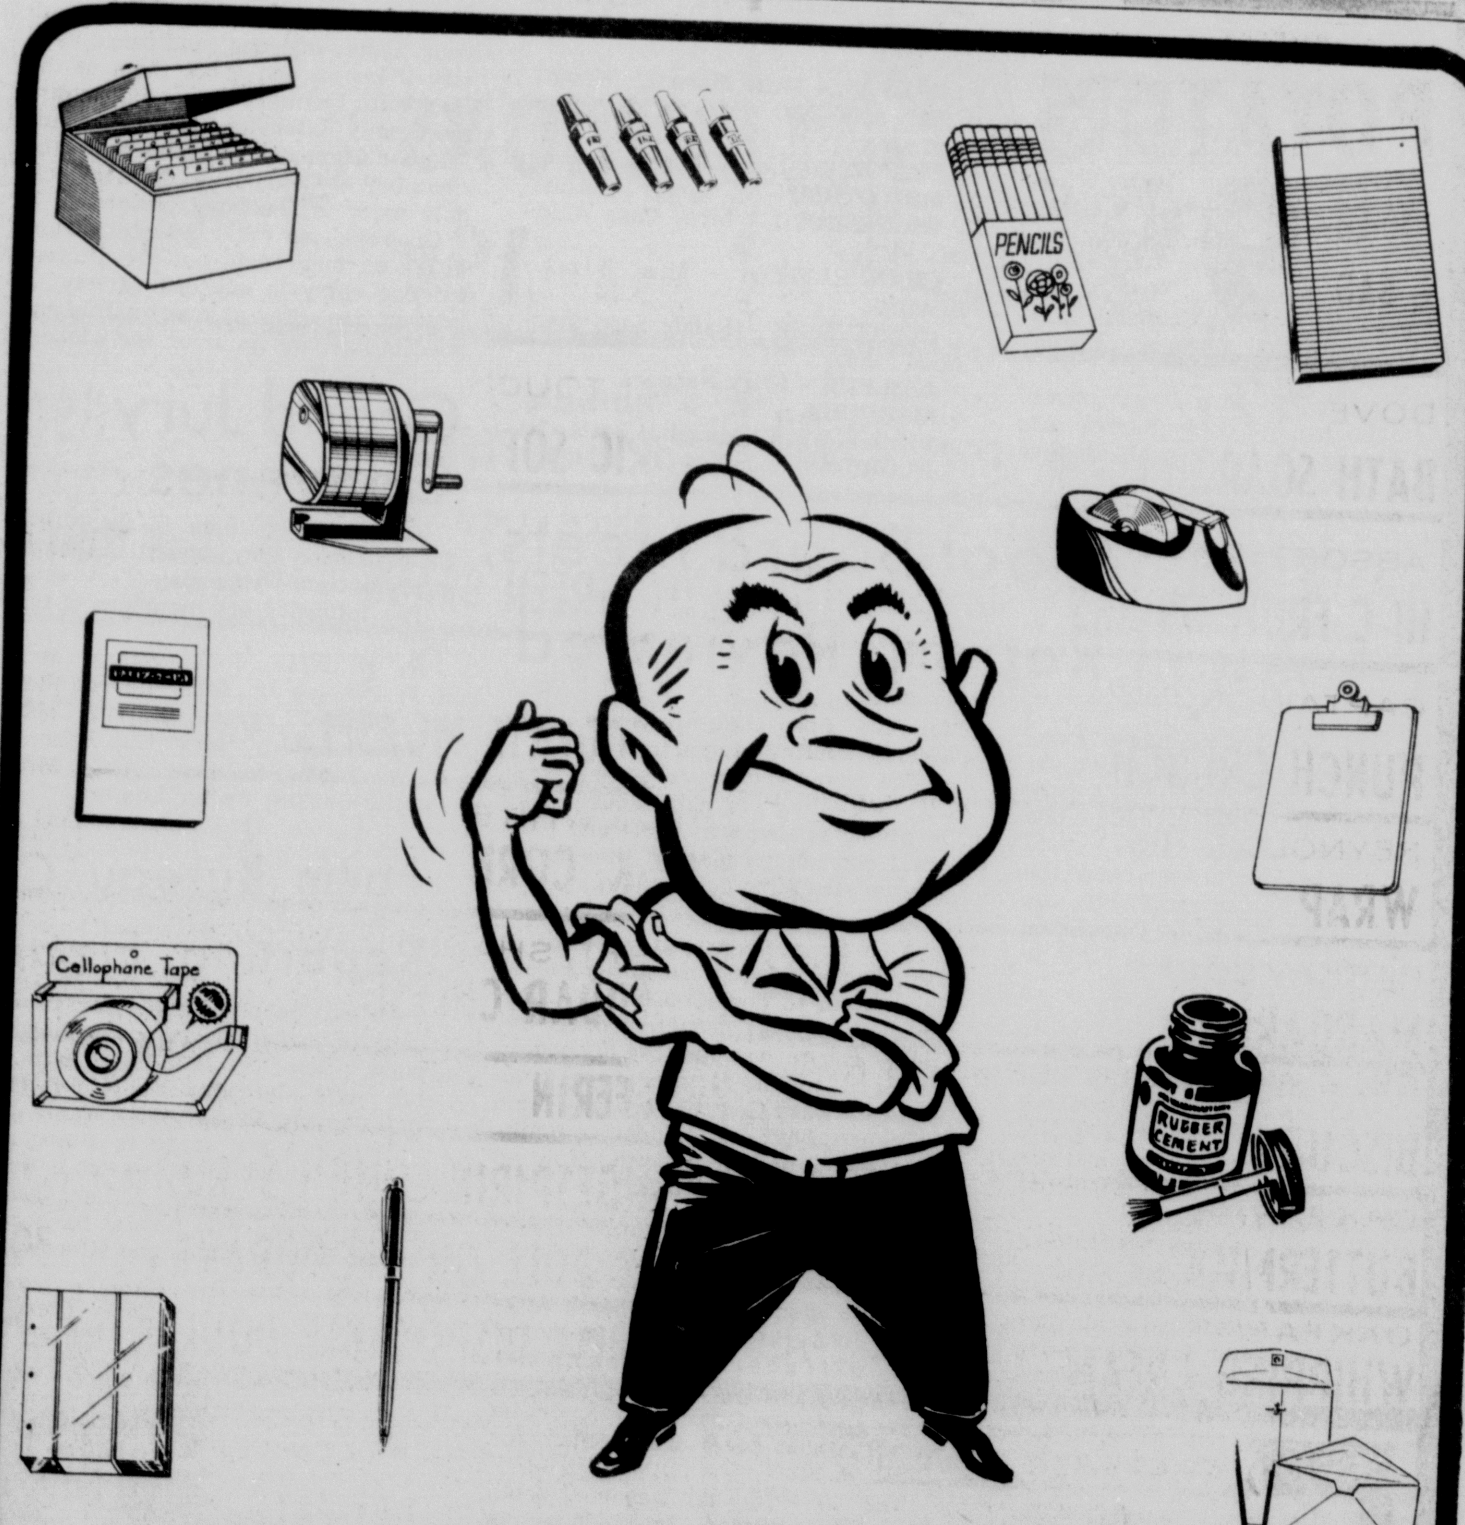

Another example: A Congressman said higher and higher gasoline prices will "Keep the average man's nose to the grindstone." I don't suppose that any man's nose has ever been held to a grindstone, and if it was, I shudder to think what happened to it.

In order to whip inflation, another Washington official said, "we've all got to put our shoulder to the wheel." What kind of wheel is he talking about? You'd have to almost lie on the ground and besides the fender's in the way. Skin your head every time. Won't work on bicycle.

Another politician wants us to "take a stitch in time," but the way nearly everybody is ripping off nearly everybody else these days a lot of shirts may be beyond sewing.

"But," says another politician, "don't cross your bridge till you get to it." Never, in the history of the world, try as hard as he could, has anybody ever succeeded in crossing a bridge before he got to it. It's the same class with kissing your elbow.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Estate Planning Seminar Set At A&M University

Who gets your property when you die? What will be the cost, and how do you minimize this cost?

Answers to these questions and many more will be offered at an Estate Planning Seminar at Texas A&M University, Dec. 15-16.

The seminar, which will be held in the Rudder Conference Center, is being sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and is open to all farmers, ranchers, and other property owners as well as to professional estate planners such as attorneys, tax accountants, insurance underwriters, and trust officers, announces Tom Prater, Extension Service economist in management who is chairman of the event.

Leadoff speaker for the seminar will be State Extension Service Director Dr. John E. Hutchinson, who will discuss the importance of estate planning in the full utilization of farm and ranch resources.

John Lawrence of Bryan, president of the State Bar of Texas, will speak at a dinner the first evening.

Among key topics to be featured at the seminar will be minimizing federal estate death taxes, forms of farm and ranch ownership, use of gifts and planning for the full family preservation.

Attorneys and trust officers will be on hand to discuss such key areas as the transfer and disposition of property and the place of wills and trust.

Internal Revenue Service officials will explain how they evaluate and audit farm and ranch land and other agricultural properties. They will also discuss the pitfalls that farmers, ranchers, and estate planners need to avoid in preparing an estate planning report.

Another major area of estate planning that will be highlighted will be the cost of probate in Texas.

Prater points out that all county Extension agents have detailed information on the upcoming seminar along with registration forms. He encourages everyone planning to attend to register in advance. The registration fee is $25.

A portable TV stand will move easily and effortlessly if wheels or casters are eased with petroleum jelly.

Ag Continues To Carry Load

Agriculture continues to carry the load as far as the United States' balance of trade is concerned. In fact, it's the only trade area operating "in the black."

While the U. S. agricultural trade balance had a surplus of $11.7 billion in 1974, the nonagricultural trade balance showed a deficit of $14.7 billion, points out Dr. Russell McDonald, marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The U. S. exported $22 billion worth of agricultural goods last year and imported just over $10 billion. The increase in exports was due mainly to higher commodity prices, notes McDonald.

Agricultural exports for fiscal 1975 were valued at $21.6 billion.

"Agriculture has enjoyed a surplus in the trade balance every year since 1971," says the specialist with the Texas A&M University System. "Except for a $1.2 billion surplus of 1973, the nonagricultural trade balance has had a deficit over the past four years."

Trade balance is the difference between the value of exports and imports in one year of trading.

In 1974 nonagricultural imports were worth $90 billion while exports were worth $75 billion, says McDonald. This created a deficit of almost $15 billion compared to a deficit of only 8 billion in 1973. Over half this increase in the trade deficit was due to higher oil prices. The import value of petroleum and petroleum products jumped from $7.6 billion in 1973 to $24.2 billion in 1974.

Where do the agricultural exports come from?

In 1974 the U. S. exported

58 percent of its wheat crop, 56 percent of the rice crop, more than half the soybean crop, and about a third of the tobacco and cotton crops, to name a few, points out McDonald.

"Crops produced on three of every ten acres in this country were shipped abroad last year. As far as Texas is concerned, the production of an estimated one of every four acres goes to markets overseas," notes the economist.

Grape Day Program Discusses Potentials

Perils and pitfalls, production potentials and profits possible for the grape industry in Texas were among topics discussed during the Texas Grape Day Program October 9 at Texas A&M University.

Climate, disease, insects, high winds, hail problems in training young vines, soil deficiencies that slow grape growth, weeds, sand-blasting, and high costs of irrigation water are factors which hinder vineyard expansion in various parts of the state, several speakers noted.

No More Corn On Cob?

Corn production may be entering a new era if this tassel seed hybrid passes the stress tests. It's a long way down the road, but corn researchers at DeKalb AgResearch, Inc. believe they can boost corn yields by 250 to 300% over current levels by moving the grain production site from ear to tassel. Corn breeders have been limited as to just how much they can do with single ears on single plants. Tassel corn is one dramatic example of how DeKalb breeders hope to achieve long term gains in the crop's productivity.

Veterinarians Vie For Schools

It's hard enough to get into medical schools these days, but students seeking admission to veterinary colleges have an even harder row to hoe.

Latest statistics show that 1 in every 2.7 students applying are now accepted by the nation's medical schools. Veterinary colleges, on the other hand, have room for only 1 in every 7.4 applicants.

The crunch is so bad at Kansas State University, says one official, that some of the state's students have sought admission to a veterinary college which KSU helped organize recently in Nigeria.

Average enrollment in the nation's 19 veterinary colleges is now about 325. And concern is being expressed over the fact that only about 1,300 new veterinarians are being added annually to the 28,300 now practicing in the United States.

Agriculturists point out that the nation's food losses due to animal diseases amount to $2.7 billion annually. Sufficient veterinary manpower could significantly reduce this figure, they say.

Blood Test Advised For Disease

By Bill McCutchen

Dr. R. M. Tittsworth, Cameron, veterinarian, says that anaplasmosis is commonly diagnosed in Milam County beef cattle.

The disease is caused by a small parasite that enters the red blood cells of animals causing anemia and sometimes death. It is usually spread from carrier animals by ticks, flies, and mosquitoes, or a puncture from a sharp, unclean object.

Anaplasmosis symptoms are rapid breathing, constipation, frequent urination, and slobbering. As the disease gets worse, fever goes up and membranes around the nose get pale or yellowish. A vet should be called as untreated animals can die within 24-48 hours.

When dehorning, ear marking, castrating, or vaccinating make sure equipment is cleaned and disinfected after each use.

Your veterinarian can advise you on taking blood tests for anaplasmosis, vaccination, and other preventative measures.

Cotton Report

Trading for the week ending October 10 was moderate as prices were generally steady, reports J. B. Russ, officer in charge, Austin CI-officer in charge, Austin Classing Office. According to the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, cotton in the Central Texas Blacklands moved in mixed lots of grade 42, staples 32 and 33, mike 3.5-4.9 sold for 48.50 cents. Cotton seed prices ranged from $75 in the Upper Coastal Bend to $95 in the Central Texas Blacklands.

Three Per Cent Isn't Much ... Five Are Above ... Two Thirds Less Than Last Year ...

"Farm Prices Continued To Rise", one news story reported recently; another noted that because of the farm price rise, consumers would soon be paying more for food.

But when you really dig into the situation as it relates now to food production, you find that farmers are still way below the rest of the economy in relation to income. And you find, too, that food production increases of this year are keeping consumer food prices at levels well below those of the past two years.

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes that parity is now at 76; this means that for all practical purposes agriculture is only about three-fourths as well off financially as the rest of the economy.

Indeed, some farm prices -- notably hogs and mohair -- have shown some dramatic increases in recent weeks. But when you put all those price advances together, you find that farm prices still have a long way to go before reaching plateaus of profits that farmers have been hoping for, but have not yet found.

OF ALL THE COMMODITIES sold by agricultural producers, only five are currently above parity. They include sweetpotatoes, oats, hogs, wool, and mohair. All of the other commodities are well below parity. Of those above parity, only hogs really have a big impact on the farm income situation.

Wheat, which continues to get a lot of attention, because of some modest price increases in the past few months, still is not at parity. The average wheat price in Texas is now around $4 per bushel. This of course is a lot higher than the $1.25 per bushel of a few years ago, but it still is not at parity, or equality with the rest of the economy. Parity for wheat is $4.67 per bushel.

Grain sorghum, cotton, and all classes of livestock (except for hogs) continue to be below parity.

Grain sorghum average price is $4.62 while parity is $5.21. Cotton average price is up to 38.7 cents per pound. Parity is 79.34 cents per pound. Incidentally, a year ago cotton was selling for 53 cents per pound.

Beef cattle continue around $16 per hundredweight under parity; calves are $40 under parity; lambs are $16 below parity.

But for the good news, mohair is 20 cents per pound above parity; wool is almost double parity; and oats are 20 cents per bushel above parity; hogs are $8 above parity; sweetpotatoes are about $2 higher than parity.

ANOTHER INTERESTING ASPECT of the food production picture situation is that our nation's farmers are producing record crops. This is helping to slow down the trend in higher food costs. During the past two years, food costs have risen about 14 per cent. But this year, they are expected to rise only around 3.5 to 4.5 per cent, compared to the increase of a year ago. This amounts to less than a one percent increase in the consumer price index, of which food accounts for just under 20 per cent.

So any way you look at it, food continues to be one of the best bargains in our economy, made possible by the production efficiencies of our agricultural producers.

If all other segments of our economy had been as efficient as agriculture this year in increasing production of goods, our entire economy would be in a much better position than it now is.

Food and Fiber Pavilion Observes Bicentennial

AUSTIN--A sock knitting machine, a chance to win $25 worth of Texas beef, a replica of a frontier trading post, and free brochures and recipe booklets are only a few of the attractions awaiting visitors to the 1975 State Fair Food and Fiber Pavilion.

This year's Fair, to be held October 3-19, will commemorate the American Bicentennial. This theme will be carried out at the Pavilion with red, white and blue decorations and exhibits emphasizing agricultural highlights of the past 200 years, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

An 18-foot reproduction of Independence Hall, on loan from Time, Inc., will contain an animated audio-visual diorama of the Federal Convention of 1787 and another diorama of the drafting of the Declaration of Independence.

Free food samples or recipes will be available at every booth.

Crop-Bearing

House Plants?

Green-thumb apartment dwellers may soon be able to eat their ornamental plants and enjoy them.

A new cherry-type tomato that can be hung like a vine from a flower basket has been developed by horticulturists at South Dakota's Agricultural Experiment station after eight years' research.

Plant developers say the new variety can provide apartment dwellers with fresh tomatoes almost every month of the year. While the new plant is not yet on the market, it is expected to be tested in homes this year.

So far, it has only been grown in greenhouses although horticulturists say it is not a true greenhouse tomato. Unlike greenhouse varieties, it doesn't need stimulation or vibration to pollinate.

It also has a shallow root system which makes it suitable for pot-growing. And sunlight from a nearby window will be enough to keep the plant healthy.

German Cabbies Stiffled

BONN
Reuter--West German legislators have just found out the hard way that it takes more than the law to keep a taxi driver quiet.
The biggest legal rumpus this country has seen for months began when the transport ministry published a revised set of public transport regulations.
In force since September 1, the new rules for drivers of buses, trolleys, and taxis slipped virtually unnoticed through parliament and into the statute books.

It was only afterwards that an enterprising West German reporter took the trouble to read through all the subparagraphs and appendices.
To the amazement of police, taxi drivers and the public it was found that drivers of public transport, including cabbies, were forbidden "to converse while steering the vehicle."

The only exception made by the law was for a brief exchange of words to let the taxi driver find out where his fare wanted to go.
Nor were cabbies allowed to disturb the library-like stillness of their taxis by tuning in their radios to music or a soccer report. That, too, was banned.

The last straw for the perplexed taxi companies was another paragraph that summarily outlawed one of their most important sources of income.
It made clear that picking up passengers who posed a road safety hazard was against the law--especially "persons under the influence of alcoholic beverages or other intoxicants."
"It's absolutely ridiculous," complained a spokesman for taxi drivers in West Berlin.
For years drivers had been encouraged to listen to traffic reports on the radio and take a taxi if they had been out drinking. Now the law was contradicting itself.

The police were just as puzzled by the ban on talking in taxis, which carried a possible fine of up to 10,000 marks ($3,700). There seemed to be no way they could enforce it.
"Theoretically, we would have to have a policeman in every taxi," said a spokesman for Munich police.
To begin with the transport ministry attempted to justify the regulations. A ministry official told reporters: "It's for safety reasons. We don't want drivers to be distracted."
But the ministry's resis-

tance began to waver. Its spokesmen were soon explaining that there was nothing new about the ban on talking in taxis, anyway. It has simply been retained from regulations dating back to 1939.
The only new points in the law were ones which called for new, larger warning signs on school buses, and allowed taxi companies to ban smoking in their cabs.
The taxi companies were still not placated. If the old laws were so unreasonable, they asked, why were they re-approved by parliament? One enraged taxi owner went so far as to lodge a protest with the country's constitutional court.

But as a ministry spokesman explained, the only points that had interested parliament were the new ones. All the old regulations in the package were passed again without an eyebrow being raised.
"What we wanted to do was to have unified regulations for public transport," he said. The trouble was that rules which were reasonable for trolleys and buses were automatically applied to taxis as well.

Now the ministry had agreed to think again. In a statement, transport minister Kurt Gscheidele said he and his colleagues were open to criticism and prepared to review their decisions if this proved necessary.

Parties Should Be Geared To Child

A child's age should be one major guide in planning celebrations - especially birthdays, Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist, says.

"Younger people, those under 4 years of age, don't understand the significance of a birthday and are often frustrated by the loud noises, the large crowd and the importance of gifts which they cannot easily unwrap," she said.

Miss Taylor is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. "Celebrating the birthday of a child 1 to 3 should be a small family affair with parents probably helping the child unwrap his gifts.

"Small children are not socially developed enough to respond well to too many people and too much noise. Also, most don't know how to exhibit the enthusiasm that many family members expect over gifts."

She suggested that birthday celebrations for children 4 to 7 years old be limited in number of guests since youngsters this age enjoy small groups, rather than the whole school or kindergarten class.

"Older school-age children enjoy the recognition, surprise and fanfare of the birthday occasion. They like large groups, lots of gifts and many activities for a birthday celebration."

Mrs. Lillian Lester, worthy matron of Cameron Chapter No. 553, Order of the Eastern Star attended the 93rd Grand Chapter Session of the Order as a delegate to the 5 day session in Dallas this last week.

She was accompanied by Mrs. Virginia Sanders, secretary of the local chapter. Mrs. Lester was a member of the Trail Blazer Committee of the Grand Chapter this past year and Mrs. Sanders was District 4 chairman of the music committee.

Special programs during the year provided funds for endowing the Eastern Star Home at Arlington, Texas where 91 elderly members make their home, and complete hospital facilities are also available. Additional funds provided scholarships for more than twenty young men and women in religious leadership fields of education.

Special sales were held throughout the year - such as the local chapter's "Country Fair Sale," providing for the purchase of ten kidney dialysis machines. Cameron raised $531 of the $100,000 raised statewide.

Cameron's district will have two of the machines placed at Madisonville and Bay City.

In addition to the machines, a $12,000 grant was made to Dr. Robert Hickey of M.D. Anderson Cancer and Tumor Institute of the University of Texas to equip a conference room at the Institute.

Dr. Joseph D. Mitchell of the Southwestern Medical School of Baylor University was presented $14,000 to provide for annual lectures and scholarship in Urology, specifically cancer.

Dr. Harold Cheek of Baylor University Medical School was presented $12,000 to be used as an endowment for breast cancer and research.

Civic Garden Club

Mrs. Jack Bigham was hostess at her country home in the Marlow community and Mrs. M. H. Wimberly assisted when the Civic Garden Club members met for their October meeting on last Thursday.

The theme for the meeting was "Gratitude is the Fairest Blossom Which Springs from the Soul, and the Heart of Man Knoweth None More Fragrant."

The horticultural program, "Propagation and Care of African Violets" was presented by a guest speaker, Mrs. Dewey McElwrath.

She exhibited numerous blooming specimens and demonstrated how to start a new plant by severing a leaf from an established plant. Applying root-tone to the stem, inserting it in good garden soil, watering it just enough to keep it moist, and locating it in a sunny place but preferably not where it will receive the hottest rays in the day is the best method.

Mrs. McElwrath also stressed that it is good to feed the plant frequently, particularly when it has been well established to encourage blooming. A good house and garden spray should be used every three weeks to control insects.

Mrs. Theo Ashenbeck conducted a short business meeting. The club voted to assist with buying plants for replacement in the Mall area. They placed orders individually for gift items, Christmas cards, note paper, etc.; a project of Texas Garden Clubs, Inc.

Mrs. Leo Fuchs will host the November meeting of the club at her home and Mrs. W. W. Fanning will be the co-hostess.

How to Keep Kids Happy on Halloween

Halloween holds a special magic for children and it's hard to keep them from their trick-or-treat rounds. One way to keep them happy at home is by giving them their own party... a simple affair with a few festive touches to make it a "wizard" evening. Pizza is a can't-miss dish and The Lipton Kitchens suggests a quick-to-fix version using English muffins and a sauce made with instant tomato soup mix. Use sausage slices for "eyes" and "mouth," and parsley for "hair." For a delicious dessert, serve Good Humor "No Drip" ice-cream-on-a-stick. Styrofoam inserted into a bucket will hold the ice cream sticks very well. And give them little favors filled with candies for treats.

Halloween Party Pizzas

2 envelopes Lipton Tomato Cup-a-Soup
1/4 cup boiling water
3 English muffins

1/2 cup shredded mozzarella cheese
Oregano
Brown and serve sausages, cooked and sliced

Parsley sprigs

In small bowl, combine instant tomato soup and water; spoon tomato sauce on each muffin half. Top with cheese and sprinkle with oregano; broil 3 minutes or until cheese is melted.

To make pumpkin face, garnish each pizza with 2 sausage slices for eyes and 1/2 slice for mouth; arrange parsley for hair. Makes 6 pizzas.

Amusements

Jim Cullum's Happy Jazz Band from San Antonio will present a special concert of traditional jazz at 8 p.m. on Monday, October 20 at Temple Junior College Auditorium, with the Temple Cultural Activities Center as sponsor.

label and has recorded sixteen long-playing record albums.

"We're setting out on a Jazz Crusade from coast to coast to promote our native American music. Jazz... in time for the Bicentennial Year" stated coronetist Jim Cullum, leader of the Happy Jazz Band.

The group has since played everything from Mardi Gras to jazz society concerts.

Christopher Columbus had trouble recruiting sailors for his early voyages. Men were afraid, but the bravest enlisted and sailed off to the wonders of a new world.

Most of us are afraid of the unknown. We have our qualms and doubts about a new job, moving to a strange city, beginning a marriage, or simply facing the uncertainties of tomorrow. We do not know what lies ahead, and we worry about being able to cope with it. In this ever-changing world, we instinctively yearn for that which does not change.

Whatever tomorrow brings, we can have the peaceful conviction that the love of God for His children is trustworthy and everlasting.

Discover an abiding security. Worship this Sunday.

Yoe Homecoming 1975

Yoe Faces Undeclared Hornets

It will be the battle of the undefeated in District 23AA grid competition when Caldwell and Cameron square off at Yoe High Stadium Friday evening, 8 p.m.

The remains of the homecoming bonfire will be smoldering as the teams lock helmets after battling in a sister-kisser one year ago, 0-0.

It looks to be another battle royale on tap for area football fans with both teams sporting an undefeated district slate backed with an undefeated pre-season record.

One year ago, it looked like the winner of the Caldwell-Cameron game would be on their way to bi-district competition; however, the Hornets found over-confidence as their downfall in District 23AA.

The Hornets are boasting about their 5-0 season topped with 4 shutouts. Caldwell thrives on their opponents mistakes and the Hornets are ready to help them make the mistakes.

The Hornets strong point is their defense. They will play a hard 5-3 defense and enjoy switching to a 6-2 set. The pounds per player on the average is 199 for the front line. Giving up only 14 points in their five outings the Yoe offense will be tested.

The defensive secondary is as strong as the security at Fort Knox giving little chance for an aerial attack to be launched.

Offense? Who needs it when you have a number one defense? It's a deadly mixture when you blend a tough defense with a strong offense. Caldwell has such a mixture coming off the line is 193 pounds of weight, that is known to give the Hornets a clear view of the goal line. Bringing back 10 starters, the Hornets have the experience to make any game interesting. The I-wing and Power 1 are the sets the Hornets enjoy running from.

Tony Garbs, QB, for the Hornets has the ability to run with the ball and is an added running back for the Hornets. Garbs, #11, is the star for the Hornets, giving stability to the offensive attack.

John Ayers, #36, is the power runner for the Hor-ners and enjoys the power plays up the middle. He is the spark in the backfield that has the timing to outrun the secondary and will be on the list a definite threat for all defenses.

The Hornets aren't a tricky team but are a hard nosed powerhouse in contention for a district win Friday night.

The battle couldn't be any more exciting for returning exes of Yoe High School in Homecoming action.

RUNNING GAME...

These are the individual stats for runners in the Westlake game.

JOEY MONDRIK: 11 yards on 1 carry

AARON MILLER: 76 y-rds on 13 carries

JAFUS WHITE: 46 yards on 12 carries; 2 touchdowns

MICHAEL WHITE: 62 yards on 5 carries; one touchdown, TD pass to Scott

KENNETH SCOTT: 25 yards, on 5 carries; one TD pass White to Scott

DAVID ROSEMOND: 18 yards on 4 carries

HOME COMING... What is boiling up to be a block - buster Friday night will also be the 20th reunion for the '55 graduating class from Yoe High.

Thursday night at the Bon Fire, the '75 Flame King and Queen will be crowned. During the half-time ceremonies at the football game the '75 Homecoming Queen will be crowned by high school principal, Jack Chubb.

I am picking the Yoemen for a win over the Hornets. I think the explosive Yoe offense will be the deciding mark. The Yoe Fence will smother the Caldwell offense while Michael White and crew will do a deluxe job on the Caldwell defense.

CAULEY SAID... Head Coach Ed Cauley had the following remarks about the game against Westlake.

"I thought we had to scrap for everything we got. I think Westlake had a fine outfit and the only difference between their winning and losing season are their mistakes, penalties and fumbles.

"Our defense played tough enough when they had to and our offense was able to capitalize on their mistakes. We realize we need some work on our kick-off coverage but our returns in the last 2 games have broken the game wide open.

"I thought Jafus White and Michael White had a real fine game," Cauley concluded.

About the upcoming game against Caldwell, Cauley had the following comments:

"The previous records of both teams is indicative of the type of game it will be Friday night. Caldwell and us are both 5-0. They have shutout 4 of 5 opponents and we have given up only 28 points in 5 games.

"Caldwell has a strong and quick defensive team that causes their opponents into mistakes such as penalties and fumbles. After that, their offense grinds out touchdowns.

"If they score from a long drive, it usually consists of a big play. Caldwell's defense pursues well and they try to intimidate you by hard hitting and gang tackling.

"We haven't been able to find any weakness in their defense. John Ayers #36 is their premiere runner and he is big and fast. Tony Garbs QB is a smart field general and more than adequate passer. He has good receivers, but Hearce Jackson is the best of them all besides Ayers.

"It will be a game with a lot of emotions, but the team that makes the fewest mistakes, especially in the critical situation, will win the game.

"It should be a real crowd pleaser. We are looking forward to it," Cauley closed.

Governor

Proclaims Safety Week

"Accidents at railroad grade crossings continue to claim many lives and result in significant property damage," said Governor Dolph Briscoe in proclaiming October 20-26 as Texas Railroad Grade Crossing Safety Week.

Statistics indicate that deaths due to collisions between automobiles and trains increased by 10% in 1974. The first half of 1975, however, the number of deaths has decreased by 22% compared to the same period last year.

The Texas Safety Association's Railroad Transportation Section, which represents most of the railroads of Texas, has long been active in this state-wide effort to reduce accidents at railroad grade crossings, and feels that the placement of the week comes at a critical time of the year.

Killed

On Farm

An 80 - year - old Rogers area cattle farmer was found dead Monday, Oct. 13, on his farm.

He apparently had been pinned between a pick-up truck and a gate post behind his barn, said Temple Justice of the Peace Eugene McKenzie.

The death was ruled as accidental. Joe Vajdak was found shortly after 3 p.m. by Ernest J. Cowen of 1408 S. 11th St. Temple, a friend who had gone to the farm to look for Vajdak.

McKenzie said that Vajdak had been trying to push a trailer up an incline behind his barn so that several cattle could be unloaded into the barn. A tractor was pulling the trailer from the front while the man appeared to be standing on the running board of the truck trying to steer it.

The trailer, the pick-up and the tractor rolled downhill when the engine of the tractor apparently stalled. As the pick-up rolled back, Vajdak was pinned between it and a gatepost.

The body was taken to Gommert Funeral Home in Rogers.
